CAMAS

The cover of this annual, designed by Nancy Klootwyk, symbolizes the CAMAS flower, which has played an important part in the history of both Victoria city and Victoria High School.

The original fort built at the site of the present day Victoria was called Fort Camosun. The name came from the word 'camosun' or 'camosack' which was the Indian name for Victoria Harbour, and referred to the blue CAMAS flowers which surrounded it.

In December 1905 the name Camosun was chosen for Victoria High School's first publication, a monthly which continued until 1927 when it became an annual. (In 1938-'39 the first Camosunet was published, filling the gap left by the Camosun's transition to an annual.)

Thus, for the past 67 years, the name Camosun has been synonymous with Vic High publications in the same constant fashion as the bloom of the CAMAS.

botany bay

at Botany Bay
the sea with wind makes music, and the cliffs smile
like Indian thunderbird faces.
if I walked there forever
I would never know
why they look at me with secrets while the forest points to the sky and the waves echo for miles
...there must be magic there but the sun sheds no light on its dreaming.

weary vessels
on missions of rest journey by night from harbour and keep through islands of fog to enter the passings of sleep

who knows if Spring's a song, or a dream
of someone's secret freedom?
so if you and I should travel through it, then the dream will be as true as Spring:
each and every sunrise

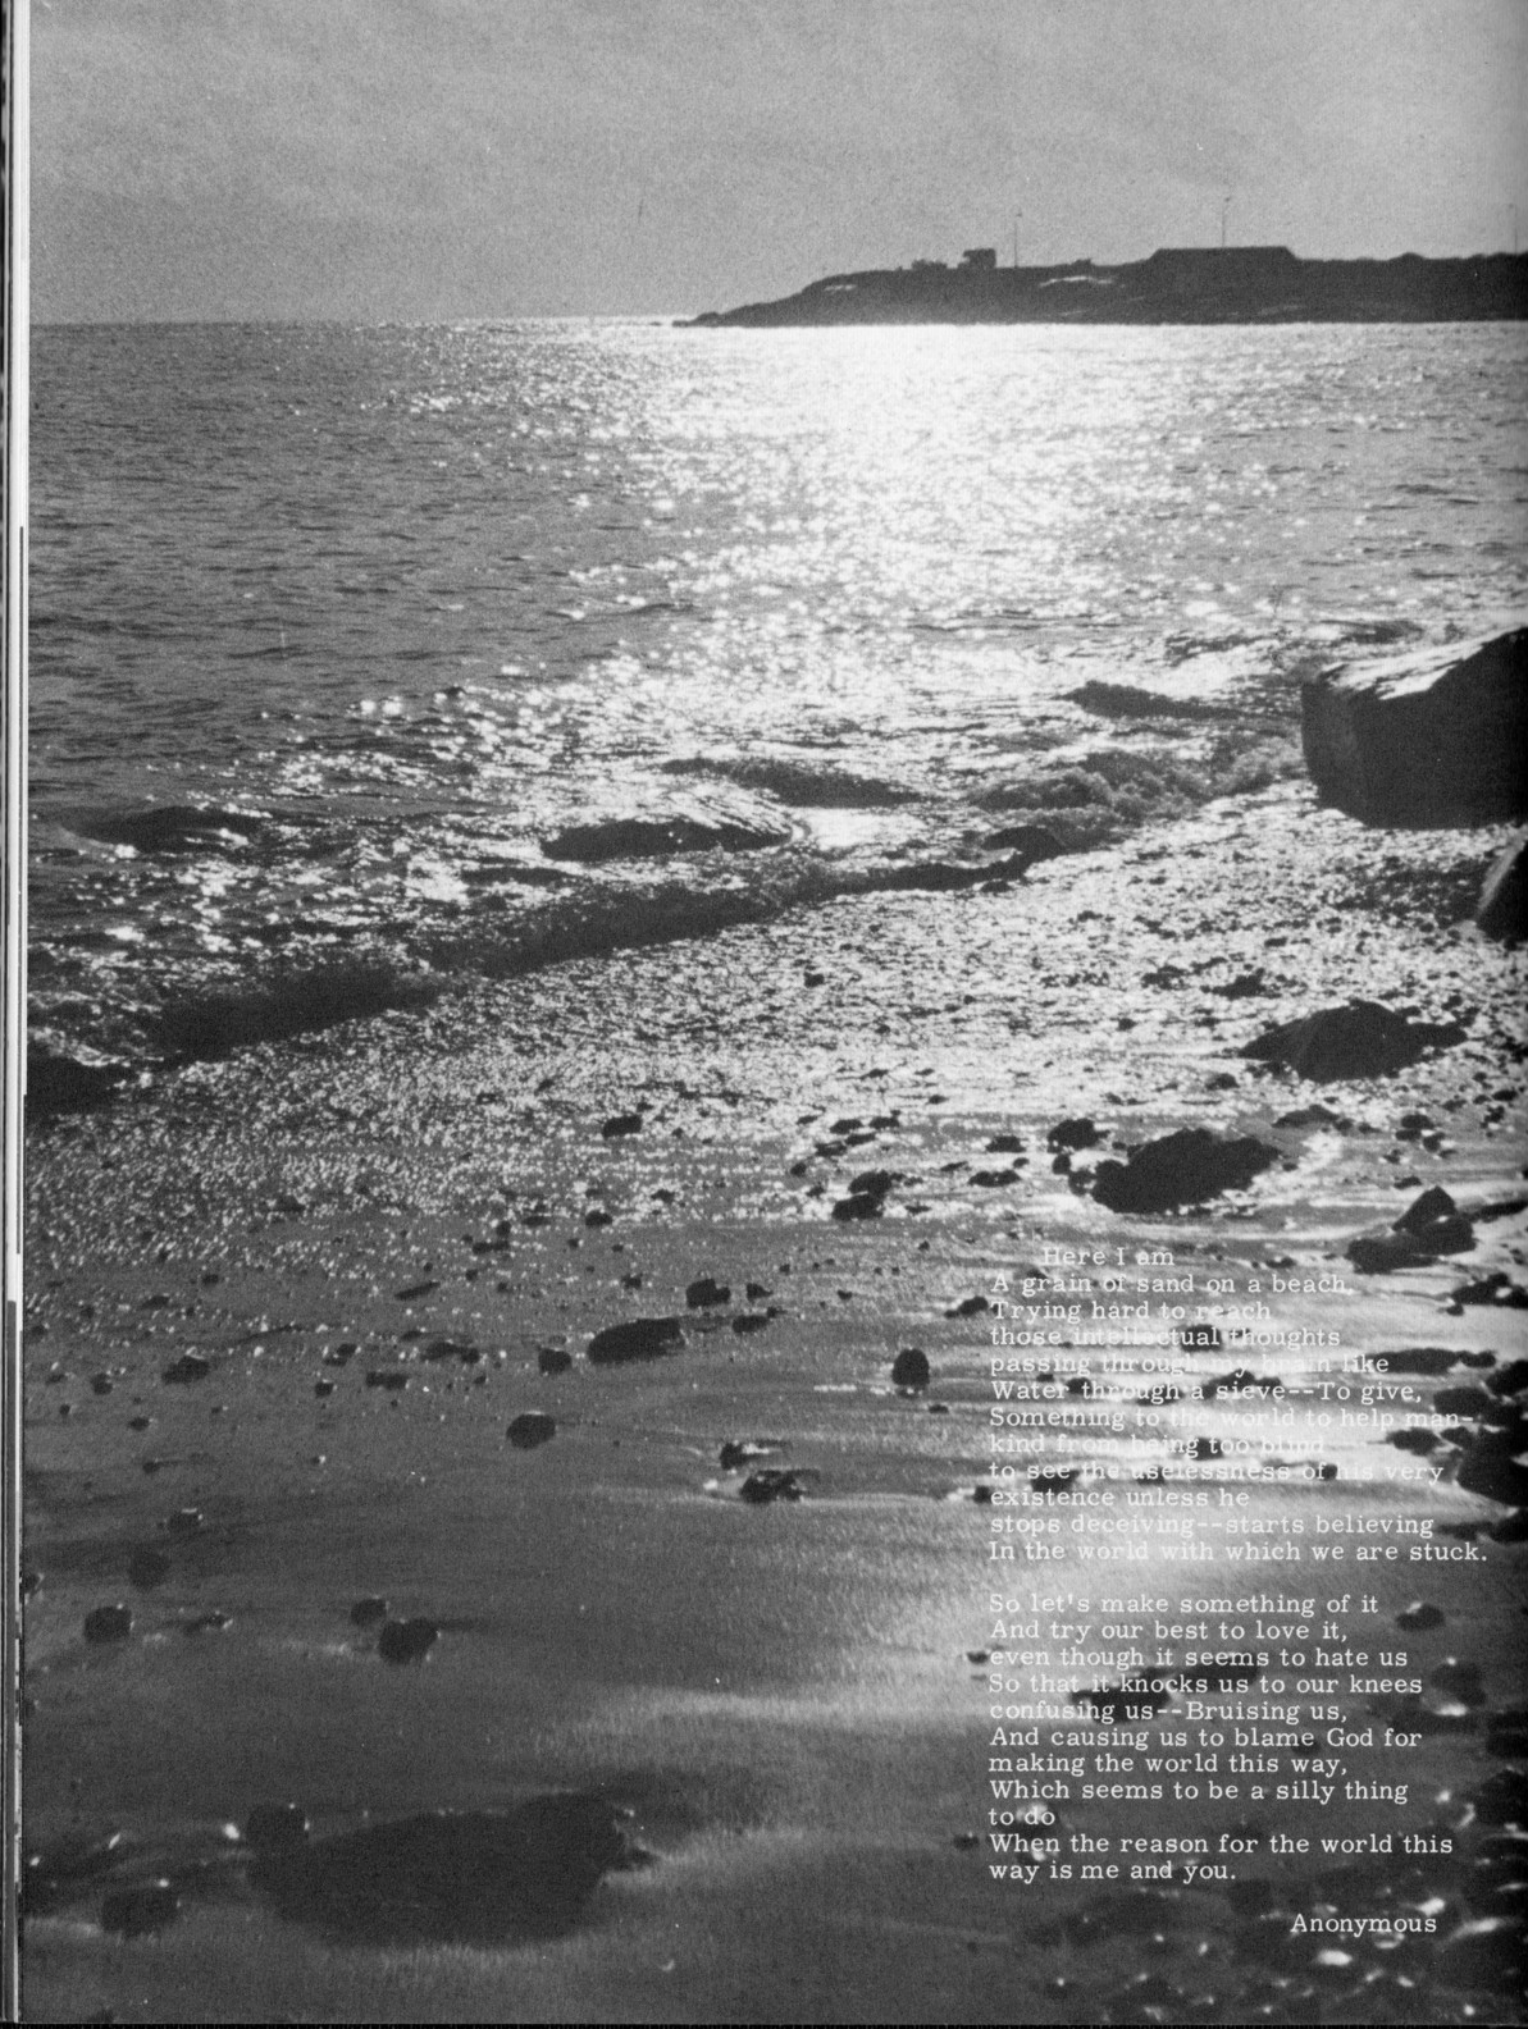
Liz Harris



Here I am
A grain of sand on a beach.
Trying hard to reach those intellectual thoughts passing through my brain like Water through a sieve--To give, Something to the world to help mankind from being too blind to see the uselessness of its very existence unless he stops deceiving--starts believing
In the world with which we are stuck.

So let's make something of it
And try our best to love it, even though it seems to hate us
So that it knocks us to our knees confusing us--Bruising us,
And causing us to blame God for making the world this way,
Which seems to be a silly thing to do
When the reason for the world this way is me and you.

The Apple Tree

When the apple tree blooms in the Spring
Lovable memories of yours come.

Shoulder to shoulder we touched
While ambling down the Butchart Lane.

Dived into the solitude,
This world of yours and mine.

But now I am the only one.
By the window I stare
At the apple tree blooms in the spring.

When the apple tree blooms in the Spring,
I sit lonesomely on the swing,

Smelling the sweetest fragrance,
Wondering where the bitternesses come.

The swifts are now returning,
Waiting for you
Under the apple tree blooms in the Spring.

Peggy Chow

My skool-girl days have now elapsed
And now I've naught to do.
Security will soon collapse
As to the world I'm threw.

I thot the end would never cum
But now that it is here
I'm not too sure I'm reddy for some things are not too clear.

I still don't know how man evolved
OR why "X" ekuals "Z"
The things I lerned but never solved
Lie dormant in my head.

Our teachers say the chance has cum
To practice what we've learned
But when they think of what they've tot
No wonder they're concerned!

I cannot type; I'm not too
brite
And this I know too well
But I'm sure things will be alright
Cuz I sure know how to spel.

A MYTHICAL MEETING

The silence drops like rain
on a sunny day.
Your feet shift and murmur
on the red-carpeted floor and I smile a crooked uncertain smile which stops in mid-air and is smothered
by the tinkling of tea cups.
So fortunate, so funny that we met here.
Yes, quite.
You, already married household dresses
vacuum cleaners and soon-to-be diapers contented as a lion with his jungle reign.
Me,
student of philosophy clothed in dusty granny boots and hard leather jackets, having a giggle in venturing into a teacup restaurant.
What do you know of Shakespeare or Canadian-U. S. relations?
What do you care?

The abyss yawns wider and wider until crumpets devoured, reminiscences completed, we nod amiable heads
at one another mouthing nondescripts
(you thinking how weird she talks) (i thinking how dull she's become) we escape
to our respective corners.

THE PEN AND THE CITY

i got 12¢
not enough money for a pen
This is Dad's
he gave it to me permanently
but i don't like it it's thin and dry and harsh bitter as city water
Besides,
it blotches.
We don't flow together, this pen and I
i'm racing ahead
and it's still far behind, blotching,
complaining,
choking on its ink.
It seems to me that anything that's blue
would be beautiful, like the Sea, smooth yet curvy or like a River, gurgling and rushing.
But this one is like a stagnant pond,
tasting of city water.

Chrisna

There's a barrier between us,
A great, big, thick wall,
And every time I see you,
We don't communicate at all.
If you talk, I don't understand,
If I talk, you never hear;
Every time I think about it
I almost cry for fear
That we will go through life
Without breaking this wall
Which to me seems to be
The highest of them all.

Alice Pereira

MACHINES

Day to night,
Night to day,
Life goes on
The same old way.
People coming,
People going,
None at all
Really knowing.
Wheels turning,
Turning wheels,
Pushing out
Those shady deals.
Man fights man,
Beast fights beast,
Just to live
So one might feast.
Same in peace,
Same in war,
Man fights on
To close the door.
Day to night,
Night to day,
Life . . .

Paul Harris

HAIKU

Ermine snow settling,
The cloak of Master Winter
Is trimmed by the wind.

Spring comes to the hills:
Old snow feeds the hungry streams
That dance to the sea.

The tall summer grass
Baked golden-brown by the sun
Hides the basking snake.

The red moon of fall Stoops over clouds and fields to Harvest the young hearts.

Robin Marles

THE ACREAGE

At the end of a lane
As long
As the pre-dawn dark,
Where the trees,
Like street lights,
Arc overhead,
The last bricks
Of a long-abandoned dream
Simmer in the dust.

The fences,
Like old men's teeth,
    lean in tired companionship against each other.

The oaks,
Where children swung
And climbed,
Now echo sadly
With mockingbirds grown old
In memories.

Oh! the grass
That should be whispering
With the secrets
Of the women's skirts,
Going to the well.
In all our closeness
To the sun
That sleeps
Among its roots
We'll never know its stories.

Paths, like dusty memories,
Trace the hills
To all the hidden trysting places;
The ponds,
And rock-piles,
trees, knotted and carved With names long buried in the silent graves.

Books,
  Their leather corsets half undone,
Disclose forgotten edges
        of forgotten flowers, Pressed,
          in summer dusk
      as recollections of the silence and the smell of walking, in the sun of afternoon.

The wells,
  full now of moss
 and stones,
Once sang with water
And with swallows;
In the morning light,
They sang like the sun itself.

By the gate,
The grass grows
Long
    as the young girls'
Hair,
    who stopped there sometimes.

Beneath the tallest of the great oaks,
A sundial sleeps.

The undertakers

All his youth

Somehow
I feel I must sing
The songs
He sang.

It's dandelion country
along the slopes on grassy walks
sprawing meadows that crawl from winter
i see you.
between shadows
dip the traffic
and bow to the wind
as if a god fallen-exploded among petals and wasted seeds

it's dandelion country
shaking your yellowness above a wave of grass
a dancer
of a moody season time hurried spring is over and I stammer and die before the white heat.

The only head-line missing is "TYEES WIN LEAGUE." Mr. Newell, manager predicted the TYEES would win the league, the Colonist Cup and the Provincial Championship. They began as the team to beat. In league play TYEES won 13 out of 14 scheduled games, losing a close 1-0 to Mt. View. This loss was avenged by a 4-1 win over the same team at the Colonist Cup. It was the first time in 4 years the TYEES had beaten Mt. View for the trophy. This means they won the Colonist Cup 20 out of 36 times.

The TYEES ended the season by beating Burnaby North Vikings 3-2 in a second overtime period and winning the B. C. Championship. This is something the Vikings' coach had "guaranteed" couldn't happen. It did, making it the second time ever Vic High had won the B. C. soccer championship. (The first was in 1965.)

When asked about next year's prospects, coach Ash Valdal said about half the team will be back, giving a good nucleus on which to build.

MISSING: Karen Burck, Maxine Harris, Darlene Zalischuk.

To put together a winning field hockey team---this was our aim! We failed. But in the meantime, we managed to have a lot of fun and learn a few things. For example, we are the only team which knows how to dribble with one hand, while trying to keep our V-necks from sagging to our navels. Then, of course, there was the tourney in Surrey in which we placed second. We did, however, have a bit of help from the horse who wandered onto the field to assist our goalie. All in all, we had a great year under Miss Hanslip's expert leadership.

Tweet, Tweet . . . lunch break, girls!

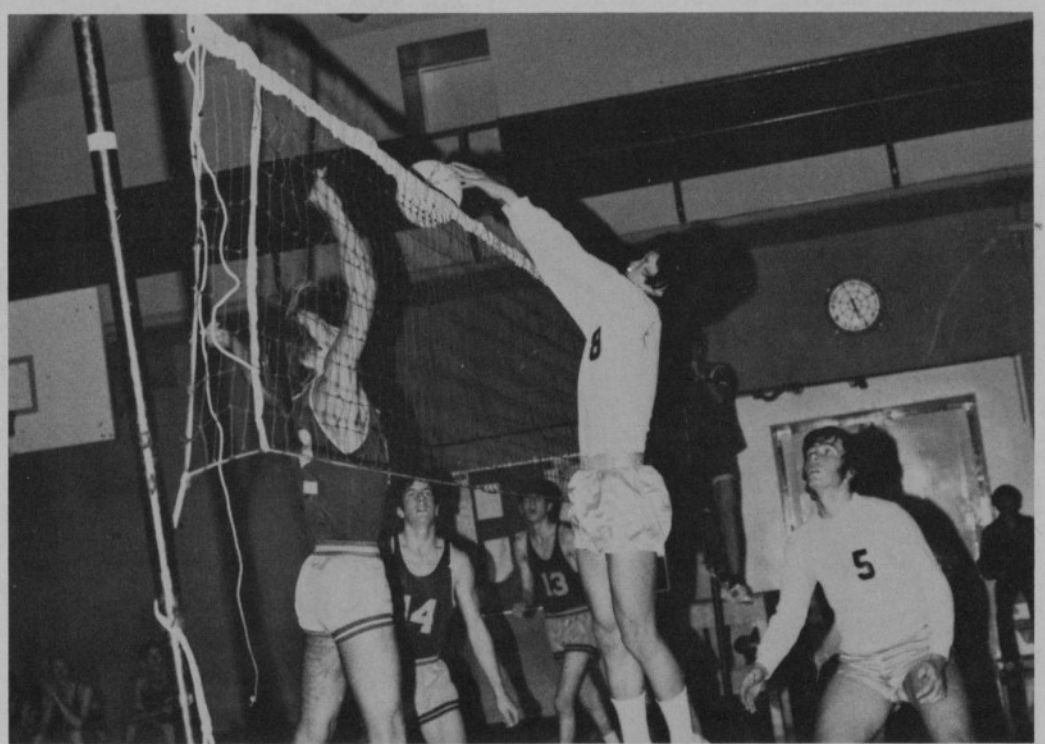
MISSING: Eddie Chiu, John Quon.

This year's volleyball season has been most successful for the Tsasquatches. In regular league play we placed first and thus we accumulated twenty-five points towards the "Colonist Shield". From league play we advanced into the Lower Island Tournament which was held at Mt. View. This tournament we won and two of our players-Bob Munn and Oreste Fanucchi made the All Star team. In winning this tournament, we won the honour of playing in the Island Tournament which was held at Claremont. Unfortunately, we were unable to defend Vic High's title and only finished third. However, our third place finish enabled us to travel to Revelstoke to partake in the B. C. Tournament which was completely dominated by the defending champions-Revelstoke.

Many thanks go to sponsor and coach Mr. Gammon, for helping us in every way.



Don Juan spikes again!

Under the driving force of Mrs. Noble, the Tikis have completed another successful year. After making a clean sweep in the first set of games, we were building for a strong team. They made a second place showing in Surrey to make a tie with Reynolds for the Colonist Shield. The Tikis also placed second in the City League. For their third consecutive year, the Tikis brought home the trophy. This enabled the Tikis to go to Vancouver for the B. C. Tournament which, unfortunately, was a complete loss.

The Tikis would like to thank their rookie coach and their manager Janice Dick, who cheered them on at the city games.

LYING DOWN: Harold Henn
MISSING: Don Olsted

This year the Titans finished in sixth place. They started the season shorthanded but came to full strength in November. The majority of the players were grade 11, which might be an indication of the type of team we'll have next year.

A lot has to be said about Mr. Briggs who was able to endure any weather in an attempt to have the Titans bring home the Russell Cup. Even though we didn't win it, we thank Mr. Briggs.

"The 1971-1972 Totems were young, unpredictable, but a very satisfying team to coach", says their coach Ash Valdal.

Starting dismally in league play, the Totems found themselves in 7th place after 5 games with a 1 (win) and 4 (loses) record. The team never quit trying, however, and at the end of the regular league schedule they were tied for the 4th and last play-off position with Mt. Douglas and Mt. View. The Totems won the play-off and in the Island Tournament they placed 3rd. and as a result won the right to represent Victoria along with Belmont and Oak Bay, in the Provincial Tournament in Vancouver.

The highlight of the season was the Totems' upset win (35-34) over Winston Churchill, the 4th ranked team in B. C. The following two losses, however, knocked the team out of the play-offs, but with 7 players returning the Totems are looking forward to next year's play.

Overall record (league, exhibition and play-offs) this year was 20 wins and 20 losses.

tigers

The girls, coached by Mr. Andrews had a very successful season. They placed third in the city league by defeating Oak Bay in a play-off game, and went on to a second place finish by defeating Belmont, the first place finisher in the city league, in the Island Finals. The Girls also brought home a second place pennant from a tournament in North Vancouver.

The girls have well earned their trip to Terrace for the B. C. finals, finishing in fifth place. Congratulations to Donna Blackstock for making the all-star team.

The Tigers would like to thank their coach Mr. Andrews and their assistant-manager, Miss Hanslip.

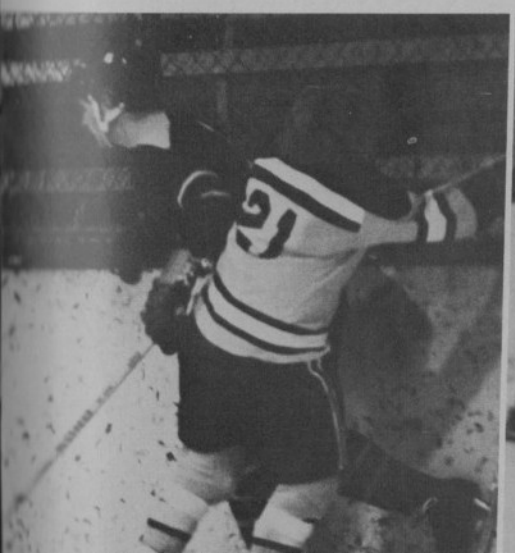
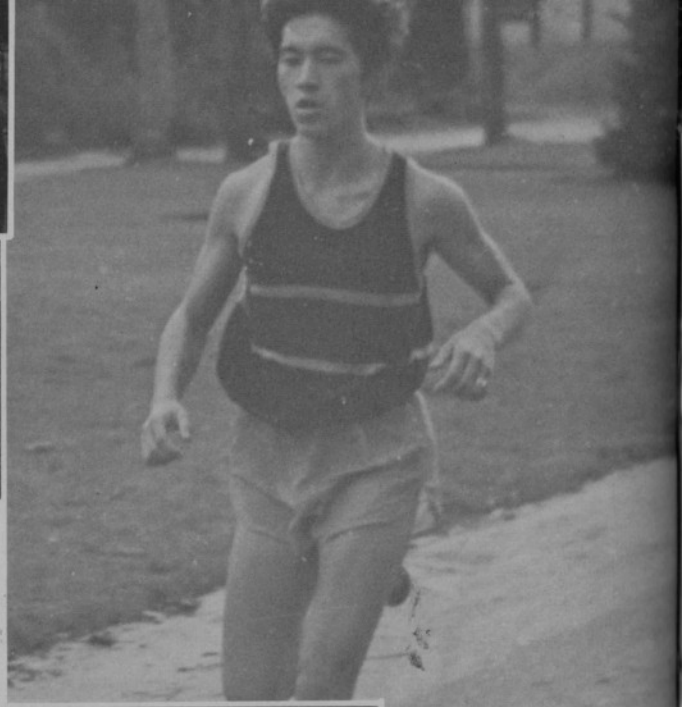
This year for the first time Vic High had an ice-hockey team. The Trojans coached by John Peramaki played two exciting games which provided many thrills for an enthusiatic crowd.





cross-country

FRONT ROW: Wilf Coombs, Vince Sequira, Chris Brogan, Mike Genge.

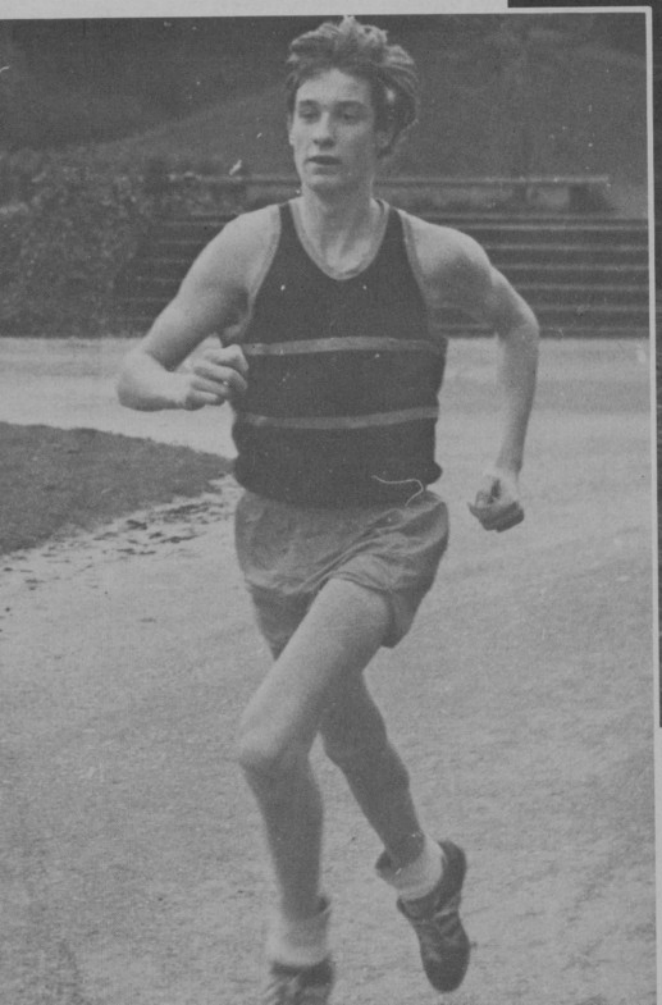
TOP: John Lund
BOTTOM: Andrew Mortimer



A small but energetic group, our cross-country team placed 4th in the inter-school league. Most team members also went on to compete in the spring track meet.

These busy individuals are the lucky people who worked feverishly to complete this year's annual. Amid peanut-butter sandwiches and thousands (well, maybe hundreds) of pictures, may hours of their leisure time were turned into sessions of migraine headaches, nail-biting and otherwise chaotic conditions. Marion Yole, the editor, got at least ten more grey hairs as the deadline for getting the annual finished drew near but thanks to the good-humoured, slave-driver tendencies of Miss Hunt, Mr. Chan and Mrs. Harris, everything was completed on time. Good luck to the future Camosun staff. You don't know what you're getting yourself into!

-The Unsung Heroes of Vic High

One of the most active and energetic clubs of this school has to be the Photography Club. Rain, sleet, snow, or shine, members of the club can be seen at various school activities, capturing the highlights for the "school archives." Those unsung heroes have their pitfalls of course, such as Mr. Chan, Sammy Lam, Randy Lowe, and Dugald Nasmith, who have had problems with their "cheap" cameras. Other than those minor plagues, the club, under the faithful guidance of Mr. Chan, has had a busy, but rewarding year.

BACK ROW; Left to Right: Wyman Lee, King Tang, Louie Reda, John Finch, Randy Lowe, Larry Carroll, Colin Russell.
ABSENT: Kathy Payer, Kathy Pankowski.

MISSING: Greg Clark.

Well, the Beta Boys were back again this year entertaining, exciting, and inciting the "72" student body (and teachers). Rousing pep rallies and just generally living up to their 26 fluid ounces rating highlighted a very successful Beta year.

writers club

LEFT TO RIGHT: Robin Marles, Mr. Fell, Robert Holliston, Gail Harris, Alana Shillington, Steward McLeod.
ABSENT: Liz Harris, Mr. Roberts.

The Writers' Club got off to a poor beginning this year, but with the start of the second term there was renewed interest. There has been some interesting material written and read by members of the group. The club has concentrated mainly on poetry because that is the field in which most of the members prefer to work. Many ideas - lofty and practical - have been discussed. Having constantly sought new members, and not having much success, we remain a small, but quietly active group.

SITTING: Mr. Hopper, Sandra Scalon, Alice Pereira.
ABSENT: Laureen Turnquist, Kim Smith.

Books go out and books come in, thousands of books. Magazines, pamphlets, records, tapes, slides, film strips and film loops are also available for use in the library. We now have some fifteen thousand books or an average of ten books per student in the school. We are also trying to improve our audio-visual collection of materials. To help take care of these and keep things running more smoothly the library assistants come in during study blocks and at noon hours every day. There is always something to do, from working at the desk to shelving books, to accessioning and processing books and other materials, and helping students.

STANDING; Left to Right: Charlene Morrison, Joyce Lang, Judy Chong, Mary Johnson, Mr. Kreiser.
SITTING: Cathy Woodbury, Lisa Chu, Brady Carbol.
ABSENT: Alice Peceira, Debbie Robinson, Cherryl Scott.

The future teachers at Vic High have had a very busy year. They have gone to various elementary schools to lend a hand and they also helped the teachers of Central Junior High during their registration day. Other activities have been attending a conference at the University of Victoria, visiting the school board and the local learning assistance centre.

SITTING: Mrs. Harris

Actors Anonymous was formed by these students so they could express their creativity without fear of public persecution. They do skits, creative drama, poetry, ceiling staring and other gratifying sports.

Mrs. Harris is the encouraging sponsor.

MISSING: Lesley Luney, Casey Rippon, Danny Thompson.

This year, under the direction of a new bandmaster, Mr. John Murray, the band has flourished. Our first public engagement was the World Mundialization Ceremony in Centennial Square. We then staged a Christmas Concert which proved both musically and financially successful. The annual chocolate bar sale also contributed greatly to the band's funds.

The Spring agenda included playing for the Historical Society in Bastion Square, the Spring Concert, and marching in the Victoria Day Parade. The band also participated in the Victoria Music Festival. The climax of the band's year was a trip to Medicine Hat, Alberta.

As a momento of the year, the band made a recording of the stage and concert bands and chamber groups.

To sum up the spirit of the staff of CAMOSUN '72 is impossible. Together, and with the help of our sponsors Mrs. Shon Harris, Miss Lee Hunt, and Mr. Bruce Chan, we have produced a memorable account of this school year (we hope!!). Working with such a great group of kids has made my job easier and a lot of fun.

I would like to thank everyone for co-operating with my many demands and for devoting so many hours of their free time towards the creation of this yearbook.

Thanks again,

Marion

principal

As another year draws to a close it is natural that we look back over the past ten months. There is little doubt that one of our greatest moments took place at Royal Athletic Park when our soccer team, the Tyees, won the Provincial championship. Congratulations to a great team and coach.

Another highlight of the year is always the publication of the Camosun. We congratulate and thank the editors and sponsors for another successful Annual. I am sure that as we read it we will see that they have maintained the traditional high quality that has been established over the years since the first Camosun of December, 1905.

For my message this year I am going back to earlier editions to quote from three of my predecessors.

In the Camosun of November, 1916, A. G. Smith (Principal, 1916-1920) wrote: "Let me urge you to acquit yourselves that the school may be a gainer equally with you from your sojourn here. Cultivate that quality of school spirit and esprit de corps that you may look back with pleasure to the time spent in the Victoria High School."

For the Grads, Ira Dilworth (Principal, 1926-1934) wrote in the Camosun of 1928: "We are proud of the achievement of the students of this school in the past. The challenge now comes to you to go beyond this and carry the name of the Victoria High School to still further honour."

I close with the message by H. L. Smith (Principal, 1934-1955) to the Graduating Class in the 1936 Camosun: "... as you enter the larger world before you, your success will depend on the measure of your contribution to human welfare. In your quest of this ideal, you have the assurance of the sincere good wishes of the staff of the school."

And now in 1972, my grateful thanks to all who have contributed so much to our school this year.

As the years go by, you will be looking through the pages of this year's fine Camosun with mixed feeling of nostalgia and justifiable pride. For as a student body you have contributed to the tradition that is "Vic High", a unique warmth and responsiveness which has been the subject of many favourable comments from auditorium visitors, Vocations Day speakers, and His Excellency the Right Honourable Roland Michener, the Governor-General, on the occasion of his visit to our school assembly in November.

May this concern for communication and respect for other individuals be emulated by future students. You have set a fine example. Good luck to all!

As graduation draws near we cannot feel other than ambivalent in our wishes. On one hand we head out with relief to have climbed one more rung in the ladder - on the other we wish school friends and school days could be kept forever.

Our school motto, "No reward without effort" could well be our personal motto. As we leave Vic High for our various destinies, each of us will accomplish our goals only by giving it all we've got.

I want to wish the grads all success and thank all the students and teachers for a memorable year.
